

To whom it may concern,

It is my honor to recommend AA for the program at your school. I have known AA for three years since she started in High School. I was her instructor in Information Study.

During her time in my class, AA is diligent and demonstrates self-study ability regarding to programming. She is a fast learner and understands new materials quickly. With these abilities, she always assists her classmates in her best capability.

AA is not only good in school work, but also active in extracurricular activities. She proactively assists junior students when she is in the role of academic group leader of Information Study Society. She is greatly admired and loved by everyone. Additionally, she is responsible of scene design and story writing. She coordinates closely with her team members to accomplish an outstanding work. It is obvious that her confidence is gradually built-up with her endeavor and teachers' encouragement in these three years.

As to her characters, AA is optimistic and a self-initiated learner. She always shows teachers with respect and gives her friends kindness. She is persistent with never-give-up spirit. She is committed to her group and gets along well with team members. Moreover, she is able to delegate work effectively and efficiently. On the whole, she is a passionate and proactive student.

In conclusion, I admire and support her positive continuous learning attitude. I am confident with AA. I strongly recommend her for the program that she is interested with your school without reservation. Please consider favorably her application.

Sincerely yours,
