Ottawa Tiancai Arts School is located in Ottawa Nepean area, the capital of Canada. It is a professional arts school with an artistic atmosphere. Since established in 2007, the school had combined perspectives from both Eastern and Western art, and developed an effective teaching system. It offers quality art programs tailored to students' personality, and has educated a large number of aspiring art students.

Tiancai Arts School is dedicated to art education. The mandate of the school is to encourage inspiration and creativity as the school believes art isn't any forms of reproduction but the self-expression from one's own perspective. The school uses the education model that embraces diversity, and develop students' interest in arts. This allows students of different age groups to acquire a good grasp of the concept of art. It also cultivates attention, observation, imagination, memorization and creativity. We guide our students to express their emotions and feelings through art, and to create artworks that convey their personalities; furthermore, to foster their development.

At the same time, Tiancai Arts School organizes art exhibitions to display students artworks, and provides the opportunities for students to take part in national art competitions, which takes them to a higher echelon and broaden their horizons.
